EXEMPTIONS

ACCA offers exemptions for those who have relevant qualifications. All students must contact ACCA to confirm their exemptions. Detailed information about this can be found at <http://www.accaglobal.com/exemptions>

The Foundations in Accountancy (FIA) program emphasizes the fundamental competencies of financial and management accounting, as well as the accountant's broader role in senior-level business operations. The ACCA, a leading professional accounting organization, grants a range of awards under the FIA suite, such as Certificates and Diplomas.

After completing the ACCA Diploma in Accounting and Business (RQF Level 4), you may receive exemptions for modules spanning from Business and Technology (BT) to Financial Accounting (FA), and advance your education from Business Law (LW) onwards.

Based on the number of papers you successfully complete, the FIA Suite awards qualify you for various job opportunities. With the ACCA Diploma in Financial and Management Accounting (RQF Level 3), you can take up several entry-level accounting or bookkeeping positions, and holding the Certified Accounting Technician certification may lead to supervisory or managerial roles in finance.

If you lack prior accounting qualifications, it is advisable to commence with the first award, the ACCA Diploma in Financial and Management Accounting (RQF Level 2). This qualification is comparable to GCSE level and serves as a solid foundation for obtaining other awards.
